

Ignorance is Bliss

So, you want to know why I deliberately flipped the switch and sent to parts unknown the spaceship that was 'given' to us by the aliens. Sure, no problem! I did it because the spaceship was a trap. That ship's power system was designed to run on concepts: every time we used it we'd end up burning one from our collective unconsciousness. It'd take a while, but humanity would have ended up destroying all of our knowledge, just to power the drive. Then the aliens would take over.

So, where did I aim that spaceship?

Why, I have no idea.
