It’s Nice That He’s Nice

“None of this should work,” I muttered as I strapped myself into the pilot chair. Next to me, Professor Streamline laughed in his not-quite-manaical way of his as he flipped toggles. Toggles! It’s the 21st Century.

“You’re right, my young friend!” he boomed. The Professor always booms. “But it’ll work for long enough for the rocketship to take off!”

“And land?” I asked, a little nervously. Great: there was that booming laughter again.

“Hopefully! But even if it doesn’t, she’s still quite aerodynamic!” He slapped the console, as the countdown timer started. “No reason not to make her glideable, hey?”
