

But Is The Warranty Voided?

Earth got invaded. Kind of. They're digital lifeforms -- they laughed when one of us asked if they were 'Als' -- who say we can call them 'Digits.' Their true names can't be spoken with human tongues, yadda yadda.

The Digits say they're refugees from their equivalent of a natural disaster, and since we were the 'closest' planet with an empty spot in our ecosystem, guess what? They're moving in. The bad news is, that empty spot was in our smartphones. We all have our 'own' Digit, now. Permanently.

The good news? Free upgrades are now required, as per several international treaties.
